

De-Biasing – basic experience

How to improve your critical thinking and decision making

How to decide better?

We live in a highly dynamic and increasingly complex world. This makes (rational) decision making very challenging.

You are aware of this dilemma and want to improve your critical thinking and your decision making.

Scientific research has shown impressively how our thinking is impacted by systematic and often unconscious biases.

Get impulses, ideas and concrete tools in this workshop which enable you to decide more consciously and consequently better.

Which steps support you?

- Experience how important biases operate at yourself and understand their daily relevance.
- Learn about central operating modes of our brain and the connection to biases.
- Receive valuable suggestions how to notice biases on yourself or others and which risks arise through them.
- Discuss de-biasing strategies and collect tips & tricks which you can apply on a daily basis.
- Implement de-biasing effectively and take leadership in your organisation to improve there as well.

What you do experience in the workshop?

You will not experience a frontal lecture but interaction, discussion and explanation. Short and illustrative examples help you to test your rationality in decision making.

I invite you to contribute and to bring your topics in, which enables you to directly connect to your working life

I want to convey joy for this exciting subject and to give you valid techniques for your personal effectiveness!

You are in the right hands with me as:

- I connect many years of corporate leadership experience with expertise on de-biasing;
- I have been confronted with decision processes also professionally on a daily basis, hence understand your topics;
- De-biasing in a professional context was successfully implemented by myself;
- your practical relevance is in the center of the workshop, and you take concrete results with you;
- you need sufficient time and space to experience this exciting topic which you will be given in this workshop.
